Wallaloo Park

MERINO & POLL MERINO STUDS

In March Wallaloo Park hosted a free industry day, discussing the road to becoming a mules free farming business. With 120 attendees, the enthusiasm to learn and understand the possibilities was fantastic.

Wallaloo Park made the move in 2019 to cease mulesing, this has had nothing but positive results for our business. In 2021 Wallaloo Park became accredited with Responsible Wool Standards (RWS).

Every year improvements are made to strengthen and support our genetics. This year we have made the call to shear all our rams in April, assisting buyers with an unbiased and even gauge on wool condition and staple length without confusion on selection.

This year we continue to increase our DNA genomics, with the 2022 sale team being tested; a goal of every animal on the property tested for parentage; 50K by the end of 2023.

The 2021 selling season was exceptional with WP achieving an Australian On Property record average of $4790. We were pleased to welcome 14 new clients.

In 2021, we made the decision to limit our semen sales to 2017 drop rams only. So now the only way to access WP's current genetics will be through the physical purchase of rams for 2022. Please see our website and Sheep Genetics for further details.

We look forward to catching up at one of these events.
